Take Action to Help Save Your Neighborhood

Before this happens next door to you!

Sacramento politicians have passed new laws that allow developers in California to tear down single-family houses and build six units or more without any new contributions to fund roads, schools, or public safety — and all without your say!

These new state laws, like SB9 and SB10, give developers a blank check to tear down single-family homes and create multi-unit rental complexes without having to ask for local permission from city councils and without any meaningful neighborhood input. The developers will profit and you will be stuck with a higher tax bill to fund new services.

The Sacramento politicians claim these new laws allowing six units or more in single-family neighborhoods will create affordable housing. What they don't tell you is their laws require ZERO units to be affordable. Studies show this type of development leads to HIGHER housing costs, gentrification and displacement. These new state laws WILL NOT create more affordable housing. They WILL CREATE more traffic and higher taxes, because developers do not need to fund the new services their projects require.

We are a growing coalition of community leaders, local elected officials and residents from all walks of life who have joined forces to fight back. We are working to qualify a statewide constitutional initiative to restore your voice in local community planning and zoning.

Sacramento politicians and their developer donors have spoken. Now it is our turn!
